Foreign TV Builds Up Hostility Toward U.S.A.

I have been aware for some time that TV Guide carries more than mere program listings.

It publishes background material on shows and their actors and actresses, but sometimes it comes across with a heavyhanded article on national or world affairs.

Last night I finished reading in TV Guide for Jan. 22-28, the current one, a thorough investigation of anti-American bias in foreign television. Reference is to the second of a series, this one by Merrill Panitt, TV Guide editor, titled "The Big Smear, a closeup study of television in Holland."

The Dutch for the most part are friendly to America, Mr. Panitt reports—but their curious television setup misrepresents our country at every turn.

Holland has two networks, financed by a $20 yearly license fee on every TV receiver. But a large part of the programming is turned over to Leftist organizations, "time" being allotted according to the various membership totals. These organizations spread their own particular propaganda. Strict news reporting is confined to NOS, the government's own TV authority.

The only redeeming feature about this crazy setup is that each organization is compelled to announce in advance it is sponsoring a particular show. The Dutch aim to have all opinions aired—with a vengeance—a particular vengeance against the U.S.A.

I said "only redeeming feature." There is another: Mr. Panitt reports: "For whatever consolation it may provide, VAVA (largest of the Leftist televisioners) has described the Soviet Union as 'even more indigestible than the United States.'"

Holland is a Socialist or welfare state, and I suppose its tangled TV system is about what you might expect under a Socialist regime.

But I advise you to read the whole article in this week's TV Guide.

Having done so you'll be quick to soften your criticism of private television companies as they operate in our own country. I can't imagine anything more tiresome than listening—as the Dutch have to—to nightly jargon from 14 different political parties as represented by their carefully organized TV groups.

2 Americans Killed in War Action

SAIGON (AP) — Two Americans were reported killed in action last week in Vietnam and 30 were wounded, the U.S. Command said today in its weekly casualty summary.

The death toll was three less than the previous week, and the number of wounded was four more. American combat casualties have been averaging about five killed and 38 wounded per week for the past three months.

The South Vietnamese command reported 336 of its troops killed and 824 wounded last week. The number of wounded was the highest in 14 weeks, while the number killed was 64 less than the previous week.

Four more Americans died last week from nonhostile causes.

The South Vietnamese command reported 978 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong killed; the week before the claim was 1,034.

Enemy casualty figures in the past were reported by both the U.S. and South Vietnamese commands, but the U.S. Command announced today it is suspending its report of these figures.

Informed sources indicated this was due to the declining American combat role in South Vietnam.

The U.S. Command also said two Americans were wounded in air operations over Laos during the week, but neither required hospital treatment.

Offers Tax Substitute

HOUSTON (AP) — The president of the National Association of Chain Stores says service charges could be substituted for direct taxation to help fund local government.

William J. Conner of New Castle County, Del., told delegates to the National Association of Home Builders Wednesday the property tax is criticized as an unfair way to pay for schools, welfare and other services used by the whole community and not just by property owners.

He said the problem may be partly solved through revenue sharing by the federal government.

"Another method of avoiding inequities is to use service charges to replace direct taxation to pay the costs of sewerage, streets, sidewalks, trash collection and even policing," he said.

"These charges offer a means of redistributing the load if not reducing it. If these costs are assessed as taxes, they are deductible. I see no reason they should not be treated the same if they are switched to service charges."

The 1972 convention also will be held here. Officers are automatically elevated and Stanley Waranch, the first vice president from Norfolk, Va., succeeded John A. Stasny of Chicago as president of the association.

George C. Martin of Louisville became first vice president and Lewis Coker of Atlanta, Ga., became vice president and treasurer.

Complete Withdrawal to Hinge on Signed Pact

PARIS (AP) — The United States and the Vietnamese Communists today that it will not complete the withdrawal of its forces from South Vietnam until after a final peace agreement is signed.

"We would be willing...once there is over-all agreement in principle, to begin implementing certain military aspects of the agreement, such as those affecting withdrawal and prisoners, while we continued to negotiate on other aspects," said U.S. Ambassador William J. Porter at the 142nd weekly session of the Vietnam peace talks.

"However, in connection with troop withdrawals, I wish to make it clear that although they could start on the date of the agreement in principle, they would not be totally completed before a final agreement on all aspects of the problem is signed."

Before Porter spoke, South Vietnamese negotiator Pham Dong Lam formally presented the eight-point peace plan which President Nixon made public Tuesday night.

North Vietnamese delegate Xuan Thuy told newsmen as he entered the session that Nixon's proposal was "part of his election campaign" and a "smoke screen" under which he "continues the American war of aggression and threatens new military adventures if we do not accept his eight-point plan."

Nixon said in a television-radio speech that his proposals were submitted to the North Vietnamese in October in secret talks that had been going on in Paris since Aug. 4, 1969. He said the Communists broke off the talks without responding to his plan.

The plan calls for complete withdrawal of American forces from Vietnam six months after a peace agreement, release of all prisoners of war and elections in South Vietnam run by a coalition of all factions and carried out under international supervision.

On Wednesday the North Vietnamese delegation issued a statement saying the Nixon administration had not responded to "two questions fundamental for the just and logical peaceful settlement of the Vietnam problem."

Business Indicators Bad Economically

By BILL NEIKIRK

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government's leading business indicators increased sharply in December, foreshadowing a strong upward movement in the economy in coming months, the Commerce Department said today.

The department said its index of leading indicators advanced by 2.2 per cent last month. At the same time, it revised upward the November gain, previously reported as 0.2 per cent, to a strong 0.9 per cent.

The leading indicators tend to preage future movements in the economy and are watched closely by administration economists.

Four of the eight indicators available for December increased and four declined, the department said.

"The increases were all substantial while the declines were small," said Harold C. Pomeroy, assistant secretary for economic affairs.

He called the December and November gains impressive and said they provide additional evidence "that 1972 will be a year of strong economic gains."

The four indicators improving were initial claims for unemployment insurance, the average work week, building permits and stock prices.

Declining were new orders for durable goods, contracts and orders for plant and equipment, industrial materials prices, and the price-labor cost ratio.

Pomeroy said the most encouraging thing in the report was the continued improvement of the average work week in manufacturing and initial claims for unemployment insurance, which declined to the lowest level since mid-1970.

"These two labor-market series strengthened in the closing months of 1971, in contrast to a lackluster showing earlier in the year," Pomeroy said.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon told Congress Thursday he is determined to cut the nation's unemployment rate significantly this year and to keep his wage-price control system until reasonable price stability is attained.

In his annual Economic Report to Capitol Hill, Nixon put his administration behind forecasts that the jobless rate will drop from its present 6.1 per cent to 5 per cent and that the inflation rate will subside to 2 to 3 per cent by year-end.

"The outlook is bright, but much remains to be done," the President said, and the report prepared by his Council of Economic Advisers paralleled that statement.

The report predicted strong economic growth in 1972, with Gross National Product, output of the nation's goods and services, estimated to advance by $100 billion, which, if true, would make it the biggest one-year GNP increase in the nation's history. GNP grew last year by 4.5 per cent.

Hijacker Shot to Death by FBI

POUGHKEEPSIE, N.Y. (AP) — A stocky gunman who hijacked a Mohawk airliner and held three crew members hostages for $200,000 was shot and killed by an FBI sharpshooter early today after the plane landed. He had threatened to make a stewardess parachute from the plane with him.

The gunman, who claimed to have a bomb, was slain as he was about to enter a police car he had ordered placed at the end of the runway at the Dutchess County Airport. No one else was injured and the money was recovered.

"He was shot dead as he was trying to get into the car," said Dutchess County Aviation Commissioner Ed Sharples. "He's lying on the runway. The only thing holding up removing him is that the bombs are in the car."

Stewardess Eileen McAllister told newsmen the hijacker had held a gun at her head for seven hours. Asked if the ordeal had been difficult, she replied, "No, not really. I feel fine, just glad to be here."

An FBI agent described her as "very cool—she played it very cool dealing with this maniac."

The identity of the hijacker was not immediately known.

The Albany-to New York flight was hijacked Wednesday night and forced to land at the Westchester County Airport near White Plains, about 60 miles southeast of Poughkeepsie. Poughkeepsie is on the Hudson River 80 miles north of New York City.

After letting the 43 passengers off, the gunman kept the pilot, Capt. Carl Rieth, and co-pilot William O'Hara at bay in the cockpit while he held the stewardess with him in the rear cabin, threatening to blow up the plane if his demands were not met.

For seven tension-filled hours he waited aboard the FH227 twin-engine turbojet while the airline rounded up the money in New York City and had it sent with a police escort to the airport.

He also demanded and got two parachutes, at one point saying he intended to force the stewardess to jump with him. But he later appeared to back away from this threat.

Rieth, who talked with the man over the plane's public address system, said that as the hours wore on the man appeared to be growing edgier.

"He's screaming," Rieth said at one point, he "says he's not only an expert parachutist, he's an expert pilot. He'll put bullets through us and take this crate out of here himself."

When the money finally arrived it was passed into the cockpit and the parachutes were placed aboard through a cargo hatch. "He's giving us two minutes to take off," Rieth radioed the control tower.

Red Summit Shows Moscow Planning Diplomatic Push

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Warsaw Pact summit just ended in Czechoslovakia seems a herald of things to come in a determined Soviet diplomatic drive to achieve some major goals by mixing blandishments with thinly veiled threats.

The offensive is likely to pick up steam in advance of President Nixon's visits to Peking and Moscow.

The Prague summit proposed a reduction of armed forces in Europe while at the same time urgently pleading for an all-European security conference—with the Americans sitting in if they choose to—by the end of 1972.

It seems clear the target of the drive is NATO. The Russians are not gamblers, though. They have never renounced support for expansion of Communist rule either by peaceful or violent means, but they seem to want a situation wherein, should they see opportunities, the risk would be minimized.

American troops in Europe may be only token forces, but if they were removed, so would a protective U.S. presence for 3,000 miles. Moscow can claim at any time that the Warsaw treaty alliance is disbanded, since Moscow commands those nations anyway. Soviet troops, too, are never far from Western Europe.

It would be a Kremlin plus if pressures eventually were exerted on European governments to regard U.S. troops as unnecessary. But Moscow wants a "security" conference anyway, for a number of purposes. It could reach agreements which would suggest no more need for military blocs and recognize the status quo in Europe. That is, Communist regimes would be like Communist frontiers—safe for all the foreseeable future. Moscow then could pay considerably more attention to Asia and Red China.

For the Americans, there are enticements as well as warnings. The Soviet magazine U.S.A., staffed by Moscow's Americanologists, suggest that better relations could mean positive results in a number of fields—the strategic arms limitation talks, perhaps, and in terms of trade in a time of particularly stiff world competition.

Prisoners Report Big Offensive Is Planned

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. interrogators quote Communist prisoners as saying they were told to prepare for a two-stage winter-spring offensive starting with small attacks and escalating to major blows at South Vietnamese cities and towns.

These reports are regarded by U.S. military analysts as additional indications of North Vietnamese and Viet Cong plans to strike in South Vietnam during the weeks ahead.

Although some aspects of the reports are discounted by U.S. officials, other points are taken seriously when meshed with various indicators of enemy troop buildups in key areas.

Captured officers said they were briefed in recent weeks on plans for an offensive aimed at stopping the South Vietnamese Army, and so discouraging the present Saigon regime that it would accept a coalition government with the Communists.

According to interrogation reports, Viet Cong soldiers and officers taken prisoner said they were told the first phase of the offensive would run through most of February and would feature small-scale assaults on militia units and South Vietnamese Army outposts to test their strength.

From then to May, enemy main-force units would mount widespread major attacks throughout South Vietnam, it was said.

As in other intelligence reports, the provincial capital city of Kontum in the Central Highlands was mentioned as a probable focus of enemy attacks.

Prisoners also say that Hoi An near the coast south of Dan

Nang was mentioned as a target, as were refugee camps.

In addition to reported concentrations of North Vietnamese troops in position to strike from Laos and Cambodia, it was reported that the enemy command was implanting new hard-core Viet Cong leaders throughout South Vietnam to replace ineffective cadres and V. C. stalwarts who had been rooted out in government pacification operations.

The most-persistent evaluation by U.S. authorities is that the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong will center their attacks on selected objectives for maximum effect on the American public and the Saigon government.

Officials say the North Vietnamese still lack enough supplies to mount a sustained offensive.

Russia Tops U.S. Steel Production

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Russians have achieved a long-sought industrial goal: Their mills outproduced America's entire basic steel industry last year, something no other country has ever done, the United Steelworkers of America said.

The production coup had been rumored for some time because of the slump in the steel industry here following last summer's labor contract settlement.

Latest figures, says Meyer Bernstein, director of the U.S.'s International Affairs Office, show the Russians poured 132.8 million tons of steel in 1971.

Preliminary estimates from the American Iron & Steel Institute put the U. S. production figure for the year ended at just over 120 million tons—the lowest level in the past eight years.

The Russians use almost exclusively open hearth operations—a method considered inferior to the basic oxygen furnace method used by American steelmakers in more than 50 per cent of 1971's production.

Yet the Russians still pushed their 1970 tonnage figure up by more than 5 million tons in the year.

U.S. production, at the same time, dropped by 11 million tons.

Vietnamese Say 107 Enemy Killed

By RICHARD PYLE
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — The South Vietnamese command today claimed 107 enemy killed in an upsurge of fighting across the country.

The command also admitted having erred in reporting Wednesday that four North Vietnamese tanks were destroyed by South Vietnamese planes in the central highlands. The vehicles were trucks, not tanks, a spokesman said.

But a field report from the highlands today said one tank had in fact been knocked out, along with three trucks, inside the South Vietnamese border Wednesday.

The U.S. Command reported that five Americans were wounded by a booby trap while on patrol south of Da Nang. A spokesman said the GIs, members of the 196th Infantry Brigade, were patrolling less than a mile from their battalion headquarters, 10 miles south of Da Nang, when one stepped on a "pressure type" booby trap.

The command, amplifying an earlier account, reported that a U.S. district adviser was killed in the Mekong Delta Tuesday when a motorboat was ambushed by Viet Cong troops hiding along the bank of a canal. The Vietnamese district chief also was killed. The two were inspecting security posts in Ba Xuyen Province.

Air strikes were credited with at least 40 of the enemy soldiers killed in fighting Wednesday.

The Saigon command said 25 enemy soldiers were killed, 20 of them by air strikes, after two government platoons discovered a company-size base camp 13 miles southeast of Tan Canh, in the central highlands.

Measured in terms of noninflation dollars, the growth will be 6 per cent, the report said, compared with 2.7 per cent in 1971. The year-to-year increase in prices will be about 3.25 per cent compared with 4.6 per cent in 1971, it said.

The President said his dramatic economic decisions of last Aug. 15 have laid the groundwork for the economy to move upward this year.

"The great problem is to get the unemployment rate down from the 6 per cent level where it was in 1971," he said. "It was reduced from that level in the sixties by a war buildup; it must be reduced from that level in the seventies by the creation of peacetime jobs."

Nixon said the joblessness problem has been intensified by the reduction of more than two million defense-related jobs and "by the need to squeeze down inflation."

Turning to his system of wage-price controls, he said the goal is to achieve reasonable price stability. "How long it will take, no one can say. We will persevere until the goal is reached, but we will not keep the controls one day longer than necessary."

State Buys $11 Million in Bonds

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state Board of Finance voted Wednesday to buy $11 million in government bonds that will mature in May 1974.

The bonds bear an interest rate of 4.25 per cent, but the yield to the state will be 4.66 per cent because the bonds will be bought below par, according to state Finance and Administration Director Max Milam.

Stans Resigns For Campaign Work

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon today personally announced the resignation of Secretary of Commerce Maurice Stans, and named as his successor the President's current international economic policy adviser, Peter G. Peterson.

Stans is stepping out to work in Nixon's re-election campaign, as he did in 1968.

Nixon said he is staying out of partisan politics until after the Republican National Convention, but Stans will be "chancellor of the exchequer of one of the two major parties."

In his letter of resignation Stans, 63, told Nixon "I am resigning to assist in the campaign for your re-election, and I believe that in this way I can best serve the interests of the country in 1972."

It was a three-way switch of top officials. The President also announced that his current presidential assistant, Peter Flanagan, a 46-year-old former New Yorker, will move into Peterson's spot as executive director on the President's Council of International Economic Policy.

Nixon called Stans "one of my closest personal as well as political friends" and said he had "served splendidly" as Commerce secretary, a post Stans held for the past three years.

Nixon said he has known Stans in the Eisenhower administration and through several of his own political campaigns and predicted he would be "as successful as he has always been in handling fund-raising."

Ice Storm Warnings

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ice storm warnings were issued for North Central, Northeast and Northwest Texas today as an Arctic front pushed into the state.

Occasional freezing rain accompanying the cold was expected to make driving dangerous over much of the area by nightfall. The same conditions are expected through Friday.

Southwest Texas east of the Pecos River was warned to expect freezing drizzle, while rain was expected to freeze at higher elevations west of the Pecos, too.

Snow covers much of the Panhandle. It has snowed steadily since 2 a.m. in the Amarillo area, where there is about one inch upon the ground.

Freezing drizzle glazed the highways. Temperatures were below 20 over most of the Panhandle.

Low temperatures included Perryton 3, Dalhart and Dumas T 5, Bushland, Pampa and Amarillo 6, Shamrock 8 and Childress 15.

The Texas Highway Department reported that extreme care is needed around Amarillo, Lubbock, Childress, Wichita Falls and Abilene, because of ice on the roads.

Freezing rain fell northwest of a line from Gainesville to Decatur to Mineral Wells and Eastland. It was expected to

$6 Million Is Low Bid

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Barber Bridge Builders, Inc., of Fort Smith and McGeorge Contracting Co., Inc., of Pine Bluff submitted the low bid of $6,029,233 Wednesday for construction of a section of the Little Rock Interstate 430 bypass in Pulaski County.

The project was one of 19 road and bridge projects on which bids were opened Wednesday.

The Interstate 430 project, which includes erection of four bridges, was the most expensive.

Six other contracts were worth $1 million or more, including a Poinsett County job worth more than $3 million. On that job, a joint venture by Bracoe Construction Co., Inc., of Warren and Tomco of North Little Rock submitted an apparent low bid of $3,425,804.

Critics Push for Withdrawal Date

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate war critics say they will continue to push for a fixed date for total U.S. withdrawal from Indochina despite President Nixon's effort to defuse the war as a political issue.

Taken somewhat by surprise by Nixon's disclosure Tuesday night of secret U.S.-North Vietnamese peace efforts, many conceded the President's speech will have a favorable political impact, at least over the short run.

But, in a series of statements and interviews Wednesday, they said Nixon's plan fails to set a specific date for U.S. withdrawal and risks North Vietnamese rejection by linking the U.S. pullout to a cease-fire throughout Indochina and release of American prisoners.

"North Vietnam is not likely to accept his proposals, and I do not recommend our people place too much hope in this," said Sen. Allen Ellender, D-La.

Ellender, who has opposed congressional efforts to set a fixed withdrawal date, thus agreed with Chairman J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., of the Foreign Relations Committee, a supporter of a fixed date.

Fulbright's comment: "I don't think we're going to get anywhere under this formula."

MR. AND MRS. MIKE PHILLIPS

The Shover Springs Baptist Church was the setting for the wedding of Miss Helen Gayle McCorkle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude McCorkle, and Mike Phillips son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Phillips of Magnolia on Friday, December 31, at 7:30, the anniversary of her Parents.

The Elder Arlis Downs of Little Rock performed the double-ring candlelight ceremony before an arch of greenery and yellow tapers. A white wrought iron prie-dieu and floor basket of yellow gladioli completed the setting. The family pews were marked with yellow satin bows.

Bryan England and James Glass of Emerson lighted the candles. They also served as ushers.

Miss Barbara Miller of Bodcaw provided the pre-nuptial music and the traditional wedding marches. Prior to the ceremony she accompanied Bobby Hudgins of Magnolia, who sang "Each for the Other" and "Hold My Hand." As the couple knelt on the prie-dieu he sang the "Wedding Prayer."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an Empire gown of silk organza over satin and highlighted with lace. The bride's train of silk organza with lace was chapel length. Her fingertip veil was a cluster of satin flowers and pearls attached to a bouffant veil of illusion. She carried a bouquet of white gladioli.

Miss Judy Redman of Lewisville was maid of honor and Mrs. David Lively was bridesmaid. They wore identical floor length dresses of green designed with an Empire waistline accented with lace and green velvet ribbon. They wore bows of green satin and carried yellow rose-shaped candles with nosegays of yellow carnations at the base of the candles.

Little Miss Dawn Langley of Tyler, cousin of the bride, was flower girl. She was dressed identically to the bridesmaid. She carried a white basket filled with rose petals.

Master Kevin England, cousin of the bride, was ring bearer. Harold Phillips served his son as best man.

Edward Nipper of Ruston, Louisiana was groomsmen.

For the wedding Mrs. McCorkle, mother of the bride, wore a blue knit suit with black accessories and a white cymbidium orchid. Mrs. Phillips, mother of the groom, was attired in a yellow coat dress with black accessories and a yellow cymbidium orchid.

A reception followed in the fellowship hall of the church.

Helen and Sue Bottel The Generation Gap

HE'S NOT FASTIDIOUS

Dear Helen and Sue:
I've got a great guy but I can't budge him about one thing. He says deodorants—even deodorant soap—destroy his maleness, and what's wrong with smelling like a human should? Like he thinks if God had wanted us smelling like roses he would have installed scented sweat glands.

Also he thinks people bathe too much, causing water pollution. The combination of his "modern" ideas is driving me away from him. Far away!

Maybe you could help persuade him that a "male" by any odor is just as neat? —FROM NOSE TO "NO'S"

Dear From:
Male-stale! Offer him a breath mint and suggest that he hold it under his arm! Hasn't he ever heard of air pollution? —SUE

Dear FNTN:
Your guy must be very unsure of his maleness if he feels compelled to prove it with odor. Buy him a non-scented deodorant and a bar of medicated soap, and suggest he lay it on or this will be the end of a close relationship. —H.

NOTE FROM BOTH OF US: Showers may cause water pollution, but lack of them brings on repulsion. One a day isn't too many for a working man. —S

And H
Dear RAP:
I am a white 14-year-old, living in a mostly black neighborhood. Talk about discrimination! It isn't the color of their skin—it's their attitude. I'd like to be friends, but I'm closed out.

Here's what happens: When I walk home, groups of blacks push me off the sidewalk. The girls scoff at and insult me. They'll even come from across the street to bug me!

As many as four gangs have picked on me in one block. A bunch of boys chased me all the way home, and threw rocks at the house afterwards. I don't do anything to bring this on.

They say they're getting even for what whites did to their ancestors, but I didn't do it. The crazy thing is that I have a real good next-door friend who is black, but even she ignores me at school when HER friends are around.

Is this right? —MINORITY WHITE

Dear White:
No, it's terribly wrong! People who take their revenge on innocent persons are as guilty as those long-ago whites who turned blacks into slaves. Sometimes I think humans are no smarter than chickens who peck to death the "different" one in the barnyard.

I'm sure that ALL the blacks in your neighborhood aren't like these isolated gangs. If public opinion went against them, they'd soon leave off their persecution. Why not talk to your next-door friend and perhaps her family will help start a campaign? —HELEN

Dear Minority White:
When a group gets together, it often becomes a gang, and weird things happen—things these kids would never do alone. You see, there's always some "leader" who dares the others, or bosses them into "getting even" in this case by paying YOU back for what your ancestors did. One "honky-hater" on the street can stir up a frightening mess, just as one black-hater in a white area can put the whole neighborhood in arms, unless he's stopped.

Your black friend: If she weren't chicken she'd stand up for you to her people. Sometimes it only takes one voice to show many the need for change. —SUE

Nicklaus Favorite in San Diego Tourney

By BOB GREEN

Associated Press Golf Writer
SAN DIEGO (AP)—Jack Nicklaus currently is involved in one of pro golf's greatest winning streaks since Byron Nelson strung together 11 consecutive victories in 1945.

The famed Golden Bear, probably the game's most feared competitor, was a solid favorite to pick up his sixth victory in seven starts when he teed off today in the first round of the $150,000 Andy Williams—San Diego Open.

"I may have played better in the past," mused Nicklaus, just off a week's rest during which he had his 32nd birthday. "But my scoring, in relation to the rest of the field, is as good or better than it has ever been."

"I've been playing pretty well ever since we left Hawaii."

That was almost 12 months ago. And in that time Nicklaus has finished ninth or better in all but one of his starts.

He may have found the emotional spur he needed in the recent success of Lee Trevino, who is challenging Nicklaus as the game's premier performer. Nicklaus responded by setting a single-season money winning record of $244,000. He won four of his last five starts last season then won his only outing this year, beating Johnny Miller in a playoff for the Bing Crosby national pro am.

"Putting will be the key here," Nicklaus said of the 7,011 yard, par 72 Torrey Pines layout. "And I four-putted once during the pro am."

Nicklaus said he now plans to play in the Hawaiian Open next week, although he hasn't yet filed an official entry.

"I'll play about the same number of tournaments this year, 25."

"Right now I'm planning on playing about eight tournaments before the Masters. That's a lot for me. Why, I don't really know. I probably won't play so much during the summer and fall as I did last year."

Trevino, who has had some putting problems this season, ranked as Nicklaus' chief challenger in the field of 144.

George Archer, the defending champion and the leading money winner this season, withdrew Wednesday because of the flu. Arnold Palmer is not competing.

Other top contenders included Masters Champion Charles Goody. England's Tony Jacklin, Miller Barber, Tom Weiskopf, Bert Vancay and Dave Eichelberger.

IOC in Secret Meet

TOKYO (AP)—The International Olympic Committee's eligibility commission was holding a secret meeting here today to review the amateur status of competitors entered in the 11th Winter Olympic Games opening in Sapporo, northern Japan, Feb. 3.

But the IOC Secretariat declined to give any information on where the commission, headed by Chairman Hugh Weir of Australia, was meeting for the second day, when the meeting began and when it ended or was to end.

The commission, informed sources said, reportedly was to review the controversial list of Alpine and Nordic skiers today, the list having been hand-carried earlier today from Sapporo.

Avery Brundage, IOC president, has said some 40 skiers should be disqualified from competing in the Winter Games for allegedly having violated the Olympic amateur code.

All four commission executives and Brundage, informed sources said, were to review the results of the commission in a meeting Friday morning. They reportedly will submit the commission's findings to the IOC general assembly meeting in Sapporo next Monday and Tuesday.

Sources said it was unlikely that anything on the issue would be clarified and announced by the commission, and any announcement would have to come from the IOC plenary session in Sapporo.

Probe Moves to Ohio State

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Big Ten's investigation of a basketball brawl at the Ohio State-Minnesota game Tuesday night moved here today with officials expected to interview OSU coach Fred Taylor and the injured players.

Taylor, meanwhile, was faced with the problem of whether 7-foot junior center Luke Witte and 6-5 senior guard Mark Minor will be able to play in another important Big Ten contest at Michigan Saturday.

Big Ten Commissioner Wayne Duke and supervisor of officials Herman Rohrig came to Columbus Wednesday after completing what they called an "inconclusive" investigation at Minneapolis.

"Further review of films and additional interviews with various principals will be necessary before any decision can be reached," Duke said.

Bullets Needed One Second

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

For the sports fan who believes nothing can be gained by calling time out with one second remaining in the game, don't believe it. Look at the Baltimore Bullets.

The Bullets won a 115-114 overtime decision over the Buffalo Braves in a National Basketball Association game Wednesday night. It was a comeback effort for Buffalo which trailed at halftime 59-48, and tied the game 103-103 at the end of regulation on a jump shot by Elmore Smith.

Buffalo went ahead in the overtime, 114-113, on two foul shots by Walt Hazzard with one second left. The Bullets called time out and set up an in-bounds-pass play.

Forward Gus Johnson passed into center Wes Unseld breaking the winning shot at the buzzer.

In other NBA action Cleveland trimmed Boston 112-108, Seattle defeated Atlanta 131-119, Philadelphia topped Cincinnati 113-102, Milwaukee beat Detroit 120-94, and Chicago dropped Houston 117-108.

The New York Nets defeated the Kentucky Colonels 118-105 in the only American Basketball Association game Wednesday night.

Jack Marin paced the Baltimore scoring with 31 points while teammates Archie Clark and Phil Chenier had 21 and 18, respectively. Hazzard scored 30 for the Braves. Bob Kauffman had 27 and Randy Smith 23.

Cleveland broke its 11-game losing streak with Johnny Johnson scoring 22 points and Butch Beard 23 against Boston. The Celtics blew a 4-point halftime lead with the Cavaliers taking the game for the first time with 3:47 left in the game. John Havlicek led Boston with 27 and Jo Jo White had 20.

Seattle had to overcome a 15-point deficit against Atlanta. Spencer Haywood scored 28 for the Sonics but it was Lee Winfield and Don Smith who sparked the fourth-quarter surge. The pair combined for 18 points in the period. Smith finished with 24 points, Winfield 17, and player-coach Lennie Wilkens 22. Walt Bellamy pumped in 36 for the Hawks and Pete Maravich had 29.

Nate Archibald scored 42 points in Cincinnati's losing effort against Philadelphia. The 76ers took command of the season battle in the third quarter with hot-shooting Fred Carter leading the way with a total of 31 points. The loss was the Royals 18th in 22 road games this season.

Kareem Jabbar fired in 34 points and Bob Dandridge 23 in Milwaukee's victory. Jabbar got 28 points in the first half when the Bucks had a 62-50 advantage. Bob Lanier and Terry Dischinger each had 15 for Detroit.

Others advancing to the quarterfinals set for Friday were Kerry Melville of Australia and Wendy Overton of Chevy Chase, Md. Miss Melville, the No. 2 seed, defeated Edda Buding of West Germany 6-1, 6-4, and Miss Overton ousted Valerie Ziegenfuss of San Diego, 6-3, 6-2.

Miss Casals Top-seeded

HINGHAM, Mass. (AP)—

Top-seeded Rosie Casals of San Francisco heads a group of four players who have advanced into the quarterfinals of the $18,000 Virginia Slims Women's Indoor tennis championships at the Old Colony Tennis Club.

Karen Krantzke of Australia, the No. 8 seed, had to survive a marathon 15-minute game loss en route to a 6-4, 6-0 victory over Marcie Louie of San Francisco in moving into the quarters.

Others advancing to the quarterfinals set for Friday were Kerry Melville of Australia and Wendy Overton of Chevy Chase, Md. Miss Melville, the No. 2 seed, defeated Edda Buding of West Germany 6-1, 6-4, and Miss Overton ousted Valerie Ziegenfuss of San Diego, 6-3, 6-2.

Big 10 Commissioner Is Probing Brawl

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP)

The Ohio State basketball team has returned home following Wednesday's day-long probe of a brawl which ended the previous night's Big Ten game at Minnesota.

Big Ten Commissioner Wayne Duke met with athletic directors of the two schools and viewed news films of the events leading up to the melee, but did not issue any statement about the investigation.

Luke Witte and Mark Wagar, two Ohio State players who were held overnight at University of Minnesota Hospitals for observation, returned to Columbus with the team. X-rays showed they had no fractures.

Commissioner Duke had said prior to Wednesday's meetings that he and the athletic directors were "just going to review what happened and look at films." He did not rule out the possibility of action against any players as a result of the skirmish.

The brawl began when Ohio State was leading 50-44 with 36 seconds to play. The game later was called at that point on the clock.

Witte was fouled as he attempted to shoot by Minnesota forward Clyde Turner. The act was ruled a flagrant foul and Turner was ejected.

Gopher forward Corky Taylor said he "tried to pick Witte off the floor after he had gone down following the foul. As I pulled him up, he spat at me."

News films were not able to pick up the alleged spitting incident, but witnesses generally agreed that at that point, Taylor kneed Witte in the groin. Players from both benches streamed onto the floor, along with spectators, and a series of fights broke out.

The 16th-ranked Gophers are 4-1 in Big Ten action and 6th-ranked Ohio State is 4-0, the victory giving them the league lead.

Lowly Nets Upset the Colonels

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The New York Nets won an American Basketball Association game Wednesday night—which is not so unusual, since they are near .500 with a 25-28 won-lost mark.

The team they beat was the Kentucky Colonels—and that is unusual.

"We really wanted to beat Kentucky," declared John Roche, who poured in a career high 31 points to pace the Nets to a 118-105 decision over the East Division-leading Colonels. Kentucky had beaten New York the last five times the teams met and led 6-1 in the season series.

"They look like the team we're going to be playing in the playoffs," explained Roche, looking ahead. "We had to beat them or else we would have been wondering if they owned us when we got to the playoffs."

Kentucky's game at New York was the only one scheduled for the ABA Wednesday.

In the National Basketball Association, Milwaukee whipped Detroit 120-94, Cincinnati slipped past Philadelphia 113-102, Cleveland nipped Boston 112-108, Baltimore edged Buffalo 115-114 in overtime, Seattle sank Atlanta 131-119 and Chicago beat Houston 117-108.

The Nets held a 62-54 halftime lead, saw the Colonels close to 98-94 midway through the fourth quarter but then ran off a string of 12 consecutive points to clinch the game. Dan Issel was high man for the Colonels with 29 points, while Louie Dampier added 20.

Roche, a New York high school star who became an All-American under Frank McGuire at South Carolina, hit on 13 of 17 field goal attempts, most from the 15-20 foot range. The 6-foot-3 backcourt rookie scored 20 points in the second half, sinking eight of 10 field goal tries.

"We had to redeem ourselves," Barry said—and they did.

Hard to Select Southern Powers

By BERT ROSENTHAL

Associated Press Sports Writer
If it were up to Jacksonville Coach Tom Waddins, both the Dolphins and Florida State would be invited to the NCAA's Mid-east Regional basketball tournament at Dayton, Ohio March 16. But since there apparently will be room for only one, the NCAA selection committee will have a difficult time choosing between the Southern powerhouses.

Waddins made a pitch for the two teams Wednesday night, after Jacksonville nipped Florida State 84-82 on Leon Benbow's two free throws with eight seconds remaining.

"We both ought to go," he said.

Hugh Durham, Florida State coach, said, "I appreciate his invitation and we accept it. I think both teams will wind up in post-season tournaments. I am not saying that both will go to the NCAA. I figure Marquette's got to go and that leaves room for only one more."

Marquette, an independent like Jacksonville and Florida State, is the nation's second-ranked team with a 15-0 record. Florida State, rated 10th, is 15-3, including a 90-83 victory over Jacksonville in the final of the Sunshine Classic at Jacksonville on Dec. 7.

The unranked Dolphins, who snapped the Seminoles' 10-game winning streak and extended their victory string to six, now are 11-2.

Two independent teams will be picked to join the Big Ten and Ohio Valley Conference champions in the Mid-east Regional at Dayton leading to the national final at Los Angeles Mar. 25.

Ernie Fleming paced Jacksonville with 29 points and Benbow added 20. Reggie Royals was high for Florida State with 17.

Meanwhile, fourth-ranked Louisville won its 14th straight game since an opening loss and its fourth in a row in the Missouri Valley Conference, thumping St. Louis 77-59.

The Cardinals, who set a school record for consecutive victories, led only 29-25 at halftime before pulling away in the final 20 minutes.

Jim Price paced the Cardinals with 20 points, 10 during a 22-6 spurt early in the second half.

Fran Costello's two free throws with 1:10 remaining and two more by Marvin Barnes with 33 seconds left enabled Providence to upset seventh-ranked Southern Cal 70-66. Ernie DiGregorio sparked the unheralded Friars with 27 points and Barnes scored 21. Providence is 12-2 and the Trojans are 11-3.

Virginia, the No. 8 team, showed no rustiness following an 11-day layoff and crushed Johns Hopkins 112-70 for its 13th victory in 14 games. Jim Haggood led the balanced Cavaliers scoring with 19 points.

Ninth-ranked Penn became the fifth major college team to win 1,000 games, trouncing LaSalle 80-66. Penn, 11-2, joined Kentucky, Kansas, Oregon State and St. John's N.Y. in the 1,000-victory club.

"I'm very pleased to be a part of the 1,000th win," said Chuck Daly, Penn's 17th-year coach. "I haven't been responsible for that many. They have come under some great coaches. I hope I can continue towards the second 1,000."

Dwight Lamar, the nation's leading scorer, fired in 43 points—seven above his average—in leading 12th-ranked Southwestern Louisiana to a 90-67 romp over Trinity, Tex. The Rajin Cajuns are 13-1.

Davidson rallied from a 53-45 deficit with 13 minutes remaining and upset 17th-ranked Princeton 81-74. John Falconi, Davidson's leading scorer with 23 points, put the Wildcats ahead for good with a three-point play with 9:40 left.

Northern Illinois, ranked 19th, got 23 points from Jerry Zielinski and 20 each from Jim Bradley and Billy Harris, in racing to its 11th consecutive victory and 12th in 13 games, a 106-96 decision over Western Michigan.

In one of the longest games of the season, Virginia Tech outlasted West Virginia 105-101

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Image, that fickle facade, has afflicted Joe Frazier ever since he became the disputed heavyweight champion of the world, stepping in where Muhammad Ali involuntarily stepped out. Frazier has been battling his image and Ali's ever since.

He is quietly sensitive and privately bewildered by his lack of acceptance as a popular champion. He had thought that a victory over Ali would change things. It hasn't.

After Frazier had outrageously outclassed Terry Daniels recently in a sham of a heavyweight title fight, Daniels paid tribute at the post-fight press conference.

"I threw punches I thought shoulda kept a normal guy off me," said Daniels.

"What do you think I am? A gorilla?" said Frazier. He wore a kind of smile.

Dave Wolf, a talented freelance writer who is helping Frazier with his autobiography, told Frazier, "People think you are an illiterate brute. I know it's not true. I'll only do the book with you if you work hard on it, as hard as you work in the ring." Frazier agreed to give his best effort.

Frazier must continue to be compared to Ali, because they are the only two prize fighters around who people seem to care a jot about. The comparison remains unfortunate for Frazier.

Ali is a slick, colorful boxer. Frazier, built like a block of cement, is a chugging bruiser who was well described by former light heavyweight champion Willie Pastrano as "a train named Desire."

Ali is a quipster. Frazier, though possessing a good sense of humor, often comes off heavy-handed.

Ali is one of the most sought-after lecturers on college campuses. Frazier has tried a singing career but his records have sold like hard cakes. His musical tour of Europe recently played to yawning seats.

Most unfortunate, Frazier remains in the unwitting and unwanted position of "the white man's hope." Those who opposed Ali's stand against military induction took Frazier to their bosom. ("But, I tell Joe," said a close friend of Frazier's, "that he is neither black nor white, to true fans. He is no-color. Like Joe Louis was.") Frazier's 15-round decision over Ali last March has been both a curse and a blessing. He is finally the undisputed champion in the ring. Yet fans, especially a great many black fans, still embrace Ali. "I can't make them come over to me," said Frazier. "I can't crawl and beg or ask them to like

SPORT SHORTS

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Former Boston Red Sox pitching ace Mel Parnell and one-time Tulane national collegiate tennis champ Ham Richardson will be installed as members of the Greater New Orleans Sports Hall of Fame next week. Parnell and Richardson were chosen for the honor by a group of sports writers and sportscasters.

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Memphis will be one of six cities in which American and Japanese Olympic wrestling teams will compete. The contest in Memphis will be staged at Southwestern university April 13. The tour is sponsored by the U.S. Wrestling Federation.

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago White Sox have signed Joe Sparks to manage their Knoxville affiliate in the Southern me. He adds that "I don't think of Ali no more." What he means is, he would like not to have to think of Ali no more.

The question persists though: When will they fight again? Frazier's manager, Yank Durham, says he has not been approached by "Cassius Clay or Clay's people." Frazier says: "I don't need him. There are others, like George Foreman, who deserves a shot at the title."

Meanwhile, Frazier remains "second" to many.

Images die hard. It is hoped (and expected) that the talented Wolf will show the Frazier that his friends know. Friends, for example, like a certain restaurant owner in Philadelphia.

On the eve of the Daniels fight, Durham received a call for Frazier. "It's a guy from Philadelphia (Joe's home town)," yelled Durham to Frazier. Durham said the man's name. "He wants two tickets for the fight."

"Give him two good ones," Frazier called back from another room. "He done loaned me five hundred dollars in bad times."

And, again, after the fight, when Frazier and Daniels met in the dressing room, Daniels said, "Joe, if you're ever in the vicinity of my house (in Dallas), it's yours. It's my pleasure to have fought such a gentleman champion."

Didn't Show Tiredness

By BRUCE LOWITT
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Sure the guys were tired," New York Rangers Coach Emile Francis said, "but they didn't show it in the game."

The Rangers, particularly Jean Ratelle, Ted Irvine and Rod Gilbert, looked very much awake on the ice Wednesday night, leading a New York attack that overwhelmed the Buffalo Sabres 5-1. In the night's other National Hockey League action, St. Louis edged Pittsburgh 2-1 and Los Angeles turned back Toronto 5-3.

Most of the Rangers, including Irvine, were well-rested for the game. But the remaining six—Ratelle and Gilbert among them—were weary after spending some six pre-dawn hours in an airplane in Minnesota.

It didn't show, though, in Madison Square Garden. Ratelle banged in his 29th and 30th goals of the year, Irvine netted his ninth and 10th and Gilbert scored his 33rd and added a pair of assists.

The Minnesota foulup occurred following Tuesday night's NHL All-Star game—in which Ratelle had a goal and Gilbert an assist.

It began when the Rangers boarded their 11 p.m. flight shortly before midnight. The plane moved several hundred feet from the terminal, then stopped and sat on the runway until nearly 6 a.m. Finally the flight was canceled and the Rangers, catching another plane nearly two hours later, didn't return to New York until about noon.

Ratelle's two goals gave him 81 points for the season, tying him for the NHL scoring lead with Phil Esposito of the first-place Boston Bruins, a point ahead of the Rangers in the East Division.

Did Ratelle feel his teammates might be trying to set up goals for him to put him back atop the scoring race? "We just play for the game, not for anyone in particular. We just try to figure out the fastest way to put the puck in the net, that's all. If we play well, we'll produce."

The rangers produced 41 shots on Buffalo goalie Roger Crozier and built up a 4-0 lead on the Ratelle and Irvine markers before Ed Giacomin, facing only 17 Sabres shots at the New York net, lost his shutout late in the second period on Craig Ramsay's goal.

Gary Sabourin and Gary Unger got the strange third-period goals that boosted the Blues into third place in the West.

Pittsburgh netminder Les Binkley caught Sabourin's shot, but let it slip out of his grasp and into the goal. Then Unger lost control of the puck in front of the net and it ricocheted off Pittsburgh's Bryan Hextall and

An important message for people who prepare their own income tax returns.

Maybe you've been cheating yourself all these years.

Every year, between January and April, millions of people sit down to do battle with Uncle Sam. Some are "self styled" accountants. Others think they can save a few dollars doing it themselves — so why not.

The sad truth is, however, no matter what their reason was for starting, many of them end the same. On the short end.

You see, when it comes to income taxes, amateurs should depend on H & R Block. We have all the facilities to help you make "income tax time" a pleasant experience. To begin with H & R Block has over 6,000 conveniently located offices manned by thousands of specially trained personnel. They're warm and friendly people who are anxious to help you. They'll sit you down over a free cup of coffee and show you some things about your income tax that you might never have known existed.

For example, are you aware of possible deductions for child care or casualty losses?

Well, H & R Block is aware. And maybe you aren't aware that if your income increased last year, you may save tax dollars by "income averaging." H & R Block is aware of that, too. In fact, when it comes to income taxes H & R Block is aware of just about everything because H & R Block is a company that eats, sleeps, and drinks income tax returns 365 days a year. Not just a few hours on the night of April 17. Our staff sets out to save you money and much of the time they do. With every income tax return we prepare comes our guarantee which says:

"If we make any error in the preparation of your tax return that costs you any interest or penalty on additional taxes due, while we do not assume the liability for the additional taxes, we will pay that interest and penalty. Furthermore, if your return is audited we will accompany you, at no extra cost, to the Internal Revenue Service and explain how your return was prepared, even though we will not act as your legal representative."

This means that H & R Block is ready to offer you year 'round service which is covered by our one time fee. No extra charges for help with audits, tax questions and estimates. And what does that one fee a year come to? It's surprisingly low. Our charges start at $5 and averaged under $12.50 last year for over 7 million returns we prepared.

Yes, maybe you can save a couple of bucks by doing your own return but it really may be costing you a lot more by not having your return done by H & R Block.

DON'T LET AN AMATEUR DO
H & R BLOCK'S JOB.

Seek to Expand State Services

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Dr. Roger Bost, director of the Department of Social and Rehabilitative Services, explained to the Arkansas Legislative Council Wednesday Gov. Dale Bumpers' proposal to expand state services to mentally ill and retarded children and adults, juvenile delinquents, handicapped and the aged.

Bost outlined a program whereby the state could obtain $26,041,907 in additional federal funds this biennium with an expenditure of only $462,919 in new state money.

Bost said the state actually would wind up saving $1.2 million under the program by using federal funds in projects now supported by state money.

A chief feature of the program is a broadening of services offered at the community level.

Bumpers has included the program in his call for a special legislative session that will begin Feb. 7. In issuing the call, the governor said his proposal would generate an additional $12 million in federal matching funds this year. Bost said Wednesday that at that time officials were not sure of the amount.

He said the $26 million was the potential available by making maximum use of existing state revenues under the Social Security Act and by expending the additional $462,919. The current biennium ends June 30, 1973.

Bost said his department already had formulated plans for securing the federal money and could get started on the program as soon as the legislature gives the authorization. He said federal matching of state dollars could be made retroactive to Jan. 1. Under most of the programs, the federal government would pay 75 to 80 per cent of the cost.

State Treasurer Nancy Hall also appeared before the council. She questioned a proposal by Bumpers to raise from $32 million to $80 million the ceiling on the amount of state funds that can be invested in government securities.

Mrs. Hall said she was not opposed to investing state funds, but that she feared that investment of large amounts would leave her office with too little money on hand to pay the state's bills when state treasury collections are low.

She observed that this had occurred in the past, and that the state Board of Finance had to be summoned to sell securities to raise cash for her office.

Mafia Labor Leader Weaves Political Web

By JEAN HELLER and MARK BROWN
Associated Press Writers
NEW YORK (AP) — A national labor leader identified as a New York Mafia figure has woven a web of political involvement that stretches from the Democratic clubs of Brooklyn to the office of mayor and presidential hopeful John V. Lindsay.

Anthony M. Scotto, 37, identified in 1969 by the Justice Department as a captain in Carlo Gambino's Mafia family, has been turning up in Lindsay's administration since the mayor was first elected in 1965.

Lindsay, who quit the Republican party last August, and now is running for the Democratic presidential nomination, declined requests for an interview. But in replying to written questions submitted to his office, he said the identification of Scotto as a Mafia figure "was only an allegation for which no proof whatsoever was offered."

"Mr. Scotto is an important labor leader in the city," Lindsay said. "The mayor's office and the city administration have a good working relationship with him and his union."

Scotto, a vice president of the International Longshoremen's Association and president of its largest local, 1814 in Brooklyn, also helped Lindsay form a new political party in 1969 and win an uphill battle for re-election.

Shortly thereafter, the city's budget was amended to allocate $9 million to a long-dormant project for construction of a facility to handle container cargo on the Brooklyn docks controlled by Scotto's union. Container cargo—multiple shipments in a single container—is an innovation that speeds up cargo handling.

The project is desperately needed in Brooklyn which has been losing shipping business for years because dock facilities are outmoded. Yet it did not get its first funds until 1970, six years after the project was proposed.

In an interview, Scotto indicated his 1969 campaign support for Lindsay hinged at least in part on getting the dock project out of mothballs.

"We're having a problem with our side of the waterfront," Scotto said. "The piers are degenerating. Lindsay made some commitments about revitalization of the port and it appears he is keeping them."

Organized-crime strike forces in Brooklyn and Manhattan have tried to make cases against Scotto involving misuse of union funds and failure to report possible conflicts of interest, but he has never been indicted or even arrested. He denied allegations of Mafia ties.

Scotto's identification as a Mafia figure was made public in 1969 when Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell released an organizational chart of the Gambino family to Sen. John L.

McClellan, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate subcommittee on organized crime. McClellan put it in the Congressional Record.

That same year Scotto actively supported Lindsay's re-election bid and helped him form the Independent Party which gave Lindsay a second line on the mayoral ballot and drew 140,000 votes—77 per cent of his margin of victory.

Some 30 years ago a well-known tournament player was enticed into a weekend of rubber bridge with some fair country players. Early in the first session he made an overtrick at no-trump by means of a brilliant end play. An opponent remarked, "We have no chance. You'll slaughter us with overtricks."

The duplicate expert proceeded to play every hand for a match-point tie. He wound up as the only loser with hands such as this one.

The play was simple enough. The club lead was taken in dummy. Trumps were drawn with two leads and South led the six of diamonds. West played low and dummy's jack lost to East's king. Back came the jack of hearts and our hero played the queen. West took his king, led a second heart and the defense scored four tricks and 100 points.

The finesse would have some justification in a match-point game. Give East the king of hearts and South would have his overtrick. At rubber bridge it represented the height of folly.

South couldn't lose his contract if East held the heart king because he could still play East for that card after rising with the ace this first time. He would still go down if East held both top diamonds and no king of hearts. In that case there would be no play for the contract. As the cards lay, the ace play would insure it.

Antiwar Priest Paroled

By MICHAEL J. REILLY
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Antiwar priest Daniel Berrigan has been granted parole after serving just over 17 months of a three-year sentence for destruction of draft records at Catonsville, Md., in 1968.

The U.S. Board of Parole announced the decision Wednesday after its second parole review, which included new information concerning Berrigan's health.

A previous application was denied last August.

Berrigan, 51, is the brother of the Rev. Philip Berrigan who, along with six other persons, went on trial Monday in Harrisburg, Pa., on charges of planning to kidnap Henry A. Kissinger, national security affairs adviser to President Nixon.

The Harrisburg indictment also charges Philip and the others with a plan to blow up heating systems in Washington.

Daniel was dubbed the "fugitive priest" in 1970, after he failed to appear to serve the records-destruction sentence. He eluded the FBI for four months, while surfacing occasionally to make public appearances and speak against the Vietnam war. Federal agents arrested him at a private summer home on Block Island, R.I., in August 1970.

Berrigan reportedly is suffering from ulcers and a hernia, in addition to an adverse reaction to medication. He is serving his sentence at the federal prison in Danbury, Conn.

Berrigan was sentenced with eight others—including Philip—for burning draft papers. The group became known as the Catonsville Nine.

He also was named—but not charged—in the initial indictment concerning Kissinger and the Washington bomb plot. A second indictment, however, made no reference to him.

The parole board said Berrigan's parole will be effective Feb. 24.

Philip said news of his brother's impending release was "totally unexpected."

"Yet (it was) received with the utmost joy by myself, the defendants and lawyers. By all who know and love Dan, very simply, we thank God and our friends who worked so steadfastly for Dan's release."

Some 50 demonstrators held an interfaith religious service outside the main gates of the Danbury prison Wednesday night after the parole announcement.

In 1967, Philip was involved in a raid on selective service offices in Baltimore for which he was later convicted. He and several others poured a mixture of animal and human blood over draft files.

In November 1970, FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover told a Senate committee both priests were part of a group called the East Coast Conspiracy to Save Lives. Hoover said then that the government believed the group planned the bomb-and-kidnap plot.

Armed Man Gives Up

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — A gunman who said he wanted to commandeer a helicopter as part of a scheme to get to Cuba gave himself up to police after holding a heliport employee hostage for an hour, police said.

Patrick Henry McAlroy, 27, was booked for investigation of attempted hijacking Wednesday night and was to be turned over to federal marshals today for arraignment.

The hostage was released unharmed, police said.

Police said McAlroy entered the Berkeley heliport on the edge of San Francisco Bay, pulled a .38-caliber revolver on ticket agent Patrick D. Donovan and demanded a helicopter to take him to San Francisco International Airport. McAlroy called for a jet to be prepared at the airport to fly him to Cuba, police said.

Richard Newport, secretary of the San Francisco Airport Commission, said the Berkeley heliport reported the event to the airport and to police.

While police sent units to surround the heliport, a police spokesman said, the gunman telephoned the Berkeley police station and began a half-hour conversation with St. Mike Freeman.

"Finally, at 10:15, without an explanation, the man opened the cylinder of his revolver, dumped the cartridges on the floor and gave himself up," police said.

Group Wants 2-Way Traffic

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Sen. W. K. Ingram and about 20 others from West Memphis asked the state Highway Commission Wednesday to permit two-way traffic on two Interstate 40 frontage roads at West Memphis.

Eddie Brawley, assistant city engineer for West Memphis, made the presentation, and, when he concluded, Commission Chairman John Harsh of Magnolia said, "You did a good job—whatever they're paying you, it's not enough."

The frontage roads cover a distance of about three miles, one for northbound traffic, the other for southbound.

Brawley said federal officials apparently wanted the roads to be one-way to reduce the possibility of traffic on those roads entering the wrong way to the interstate highway.

However, he said, the one-way system increased from four to 50 the number of opportunities for motorists on residential streets and private drives to enter the frontage roads the wrong way.

He also said that new highways would reduce the hazard of entering interstate roads the wrong way.

Business along the frontage roads under the one-way arrangement has fallen off about 60 per cent, Brawley said.

Wants 65 a 4-Lane Road

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A delegation representing 38 legislators and many county officials asked the state Highway Commission Wednesday to give four-lane treatment to U.S. 65 whenever additional highway development is programmed.

John Harsh of Magnolia, commission chairman, told the visitors that $34 million worth of work on the route was programmed for 1972 and, eventually, $110 million had been planned, including four-lane treatment for most of the route.

The commission's problem, he said, is financial.

The total amount of road work placed under contract in an entire year amounts to about $70 million.

Rep. Roger Logan of Harrison spoke for the delegation, saying, "It is a monumental project, but we feel it is desperately needed."

The route serves about 25 counties, containing one-third of the state's population and one-third of the registered cars and trucks, Logan said.

He said traffic counts ranged from 10,800 at Harrison to 5,700 at Conway, 6,100 south of Little Rock, 18,200 at Pine Bluff and from 3,500 to 6,700 below Pine Bluff.

"We are very much impressed by your visit here today," Harsh said, but he added that all road development is contingent on "when the money is available." Earlier, the commission adopted an order regulating billboards along interstate and primary roads in Arkansas and setting a fee of $10 for permits to establish signs within 660 feet of those roads.

How Henry Did It

By GAYLORD SHAW

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Henry

Kissinger used five separate routes, each carefully calculated to disguise his destination and purpose, when he commuted regularly to Paris on his super-secret peace missions.

Friendly Frenchmen lent invaluable help as President Nixon's national security adviser

conducted without detection the 30-month, 12-conference series of talks with North Vietnamese officials.

So secret were Kissinger's journeys that fewer than five persons in the White House knew full details.

But, it now appears, Nixon himself almost blew Kissinger's cover—before a national television audience, no less—when he apparently confused the private and public talks and mentioned

an offer he later indicated

was made secretly.

These are among major points that have emerged since

Nixon's Tuesday night address

in which he disclosed Kissinger's

100,000-mile search for peace and left the world wondering: How did Henry do it?

Kissinger himself won't divulge precise details of his covert travels because, he told a news conference Wednesday,

"we may want to do it again."

He would say only:

"We generally flew to American military bases and then transferred one or twice until we wound up...at some little-used airfields near Paris and then we generally stayed in the outskirts with the people we used as contacts...we generally met in a meeting place furnished by the other side..."

But other details, obtained from sources in Washington and Paris, filled in some of the blanks:

—Sometimes Kissinger would leave from Andrews Air Force

Base, Md., on the outskirts of Washington. Other times he would leave from other U.S.

airports.

—Sometimes he would land

at a U.S. air base in Europe,

then shift to another plane for the shorter hop to Paris. Other times he would fly directly to

French air bases near the capital.

—Usually, he would be accompanied by one or two trusted aides. And usually they would find lodging in out-of-the-way quarters arranged by the handful of French and American officials in Paris who knew what was happening.

Sources would not divulge who charted the five basic but different routes they said were followed by Kissinger to reach

Paris. But one official said,

"Richard Nixon was the quarterback—all the way."

Before each trip, this official added, Kissinger would spend hours with Nixon, preparing for the delicate diplomatic confrontations.

While Kissinger was in Paris,

this source added, Nixon would

"sit and wonder and worry,"

placated only when the German-born foreign-policy expert

Kissinger would "rush to the Presidential study and deliver a detailed, blow-by-blow report that would last for hours," one official said.

Pollution Control Plan

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The

Arkansas Pollution Control and

Ecology Commission completed

a plan Wednesday to bring the state's Air Control Code into line with federal government standards.

The new code also included

an implementation plan to achieve the National Ambient

Air Quality standards by 1975.

States are required to submit plans by Jan. 30.

The code now goes to Gov.

Dale Bumpers for his approval.

Conditional exemptions to the regulations prohibiting opening burning were granted to railroads, utilities and pipeline companies. Farmers will be allowed to burn field stubble

after harvest and trash from land-clearing areas. Railroads, utilities and pipeline companies will be allowed to burn trash

from right-of-way clearing operations provided that they apply for a permit with the commission and can prove that there is no other practical way of disposing of trash.

The new code also grants exemptions to portable asphalt

mix plants and grants general exemptions from emission standards for railroad locomotives

provided that they are well maintained.

A commission spokesman said exemptions were granted

because there was "no decent way to enforce" the standards

regarding these particular operations.

Personally Gave Hughes $275,000, Irving Says

NEW YORK (AP) — Author Clifford Irving again says he personally handed Howard R. Hughes a check for $275,000 in partial payment for the billionaire's autobiography and Hughes replied, "Thanks."

Irving said he had laryngitis and let his lawyer, Martin S. Ackerman, do most of the talking at a truncated Kennedy airport news conference Wednesday after arriving here from Spain.

"Cliff is here through me," Ackerman told reporters. "He has met Hughes, the book will come out, it will be a successful book, and it will be authentic."

Hughes, in purported signed affidavits and a telephone interview, has called the unpublished Irving book a fake, denied ever meeting with the author and said he never received $650,000 which McGraw-Hill publishing Co. says it paid him.

On Wednesday, state Supreme Court Justice Gerald P. Calkin ruled that a notarized affidavit disclaiming any knowledge of Irving or authorization for his book was a valid Hughes document.

"This is probably the most horrible experience I've ever gone through," Irving said. He has maintained that he delivered McGraw-Hill checks of $275,000 and $50,000 to Hughes personally and gave one for $325,000 to a bona fide Hughes representative.

Swiss police are searching for a woman identified as H.R. Hughes who apparently deposited the three checks into a Swiss account and later withdrew the money.

A police spokesman in Zurich reported that Spanish officials have been asked to check the whereabouts of Irving's wife, Edith, when the money was withdrawn by the mystery woman.

Irving, his wife and their two children came here from their home on the Spanish island of Ibiza, passing up a request from Swiss police to go to Zurich for questioning.

Swiss police have reportedly sent the FBI a list of questions to be put to the Irvings if they do not go to Zurich.

Irving is in New York for a court appearance in a libel suit against him over a previous book.

Before leaving Ibiza in the Balearic Islands, Irving told newsmen he also hoped to untangle the mysteries surrounding the purported autobiography of the secretive industrial-

U.S. Auditors Want $280,000 From AM&N

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A report filed by federal auditors with the Dallas office of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare recommends that HEW require Arkansas AM&N College at Pine Bluff to refund about $280,000 in federal funds they said were unaccounted for in the college's records.

State officials had said late last year that federal auditors were contending that an undetermined sum probably would have to be refunded.

The reports filed by the auditors said that AM&N President Lawrence A. Davis indicated the audit could not be accepted until the state Finance and Administration Department was willing to accept the amount indicated as the school's indebtedness to federal programs.

The audits do not allege that the money was diverted to illegal uses but that supporting documents were not found.

Finance and Administration Director Max Milam said Wednesday that he had not seen the final audit reports, but preliminary drafts showed the auditing work was very poor.

Dr. Milam said his department could not agree with the figures shown in the preliminary drafts. He said the college would have a chance to rebut the audit and to negotiate its indebtedness but the methods used by the auditors make it difficult to rebut the figures.

He said the debt was a cumulative figure of funds that the auditors say are unaccounted for in six different programs funded through the National Institutes of Health and that the audit did not specify the amount unaccounted for in each program and by each year. The audits covered periods dating back to 1969.

"For the time being we're squarely on the side of AM&N," Dr. Milam said. "They jumped on an institution with both feet at a time when it was down already. It's unfair and uncalled for."

The college ran up a deficit of more than $1.5 million last biennium and its administration has been under attack by legislators and others.

60 Pound Bird Is Stolen

ITHACA, N.Y. (AP) — A 60-pound, 4½-foot-tall brown bird that can't fly and eats lots of vegetables, leaves and grasshoppers has been stolen from Cornell University's ornithology laboratory.

A university spokesman said Tuesday the bird, a Darwins Rhea, had been missing for about a week from its fenced-in enclosure. A broken lock and other evidence of a forced entry were found, the spokesman said.

DR. LAWRENCE E. LAMB Mail Order Diets Can Harm Health

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb—I am one of the suckers who bit on the reducing plan through the mail. I took capsules for two days. They gave me stomach cramps so I quit. I think the government should do something about them for false advertising. They sent along a diet with their reducing plan that would cause anyone to lose weight.

Dear Reader—Thank you for your comment. I hope you don't mind my using your letter as an example of the trouble you can get into using mail-order diets. These methods are usually temporary and some can endanger your health. If you can't lose weight on a sensible diet and exercise plan, see your doctor and lose fat—not your health.

Dear Dr. Lamb—What do you think about the use of pills for diabetes? We have read in newspapers and magazines lately it could cause a fatal heart attack. My husband only takes one tablet three times a day and his doctor says this isn't enough to hurt him. What do you think about this?

Dear Reader—You are doing the right thing by relying on your doctor to decide about your husband's own special needs. Pills as opposed to injections of insulin have come under a cloud of suspicion. The American Medical Assn., the American Diabetic Assn. and the Food and Drug Administration have all suggested that people who can be treated by pills would probably do better treated by diet alone.

To be treated properly, though, by diet the patient must cooperate with a diet plan that enables him to eliminate or avoid obesity. Many people with diabetes can do very well using diet management alone.

Dear Dr. Lamb—Is the old saying "feed a fever, starve a cold" true or is it in that order? Or "starve a fever and feed a cold"?

Dear Reader—I believe the later is the usual order. It doesn't make much difference since neither one has any medical basis. Quite the contrary, it is important to be sure you get enough nutrition when you have a fever. A fever means the metabolism of the body is increased, generating more heat. To do this food elements are being burned. If you don't provide the food in your diet the body cells will be used for food. This would be fine if it were just excess fat, but often it is vital protein that makes the body strong and healthy. Whenever you are sick with either a fever or a cold make sure that you are getting a good, well-balanced diet. This is no time to add additional burdens to the body's functions. If you need to lose weight, it is better to do this when you are well.

Highway Projection Is $200 Million Short

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state Highway Commission revealed Wednesday a six-year projection of road development in Arkansas and said anticipated state revenue will fall $200 million below actual needs.

The programmed jobs through 1977 will cost about $400 million and a 1970 study indicates that actual needs will amount to about $600 million, Highway Director Ward Goodman said.

The report includes a breakdown of the road work the commission has programmed for 1972 and plans to have under contract before the year is out. This amounts to about $80 million.

The money-shortage theme has been a repetitive one at commission meetings for more than a year, but Gov. Dale Bumpers has done nothing to increase revenue.

In November, commissioners indicated that through personal speaking engagements and other activities they might attempt to rally public pressure to compel Bumpers to take action.

Asked Wednesday if this campaign had died out, Commission Chairman John Harsh of Magnolia said, "What more can we do? We passed an order urging him to do something. I tell him about it every time I see him."

Commissioner Lawrence Blackwell said no highway revenue is left "lying around" by the Highway Department.

"If the people want more and better roads, we simply have to have more money to build them," he said. "Money controls the whole thing."

Commissioner George Kell of Swifton, named to the commission last year by Bumpers, said he had no commitment from the governor but believed Bumpers would seek highway revenue hikes next year.

About $21 million of the 1972 work listed in the 49-page report was put under contract at a bid opening Wednesday.

Whale on Bow of Tanker

PORT ARTHUR, Tex. (AP) — The body of a 30-foot whale has been found on the bow of a tanker and Texaco officials are not quite sure what to do with it.

The whale was discovered on the tanker Texaco Florida by a pilot who was preparing to board the vessel and bring it into harbor.

The spotted whale apparently was snared somewhere off Florida.

and returned to jail, he said. "Inside you see men with high IQs, sitting in a cell rotting," said the Palm Springs, Calif., man. "Nothing to motivate them."

When they are granted parole, he said, they're given a few bucks, a pat on the back and they're back in a cellblock in a year.

"All they needed to learn was self-control and work habits," he explained.

"It's a wonder he didn't con the judge out of his gavel," Don DeSaw, one of Jeffries' pupils at Chino, said with a grin.

The 35-year-old DeSaw is a recent parolee who spent 10 years behind bars.

"I'll never be rich, but I got a job and a choice of dressing on my salad," he said Wednesday at Jungle Gardens, a tourist attraction where Jeffries found DeSaw a job.

Jeffries came with DeSaw from the coast to set up the show at Jungle Gardens. They brought five trained parrots.

"In prison I was withdrawn, afraid if somebody said the wrong thing I'd erupt," DeSaw said.

He said he took the animal training course and forgot the hostilities.

"I learned if you work smoothly with them the response is good. They reflect your attitudes," DeSaw said.

Jeffries said in three years 125 prisoners have taken his course and 100 have been paroled. Two have been arrested

5 Girls Need Liberation

By LYNN SHEAR
Associated Press Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Five little girls need liberation from 21 bullying boys, according to a group of women from Suffolk County, Long Island.

The girls represent the vowels of the alphabet. The boys are the consonants. And all 26 are caricatured in a program called Alpha One used in schools throughout the country to teach first graders their ABCs.

To the Suffolk women, the program is blatantly sexist, because the girl-vowels are shown as weak, weeping creatures who must ask the chauvinist consonants for protection and support.

"It presents a very poor image for little girls," said Mrs. Lois Rodriguez, a kindergarten teacher—she does not use the program—and a spokeswoman for Suffolk Women's Liberation.

The multimedia package, including books, filmstrips and posters, gives each letter a sex and a personality. The letter-people's interactions with one another in Alpha Land—how Miss A gets along with Mr. T, for instance—are meant to help children learn word formation from real-life situations.

What the feminist mothers are protesting are such too-real situations as the one where Mr. C and Mr. K determine which vowels belong to them. Says Mrs. Rodriguez, "The whole idea of girls belonging to boys is what's awful. The girls are never consulted."

Last week, she and four other women discussed their complaints with Dr. Bernard Kauderer, chief executive officer of New Dimensions in Education, Inc., which produces the program.

In an atmosphere he described as "somewhat hostile," Kauderer said he defended his Alpha One program on the basis that it aims at showing cooperation and sharing among all the letters. But he also promised that he would look into the charges, which he says involve just one-half of one per cent of the total Alpha One package.

He said that the kits, 8,000 of which are now in use are constantly revised and updated, and that cutting out the so-called chauvinist consonants could be done "for less than $5,000."

Kauderer also said that after the feminist demands became known, the company had received "a good deal of fan mail—mostly from teachers who say that it is not sexist."

Income Averaging May Help Reduce Tax

By RAY DE CRANE
If your income for 1971 was far greater than it has been in recent years you can do any one of the following things:

1. Complain to all your friends about your high tax bracket. This won't win you any friends; neither will they give you sympathy.
2. Pay the high tax without complaint.
3. Try income averaging. This is a sure-fire way to reduce your income tax if your 1971 income meets a few simple requirements.

Income averaging knocks off the peaks of your high income years, fills in the valleys and lets you pay your tax as if the income had been spread over a five-year period.

To show the practical application of averaging consider the case of a married man, intending to file a joint return, who had taxable income (total income less adjustments, deductions and personal exemptions) of $30,000 in 1971. For the previous four years his taxable income looked like this: 1970—$16,000; 1969—$11,000; 1968—$13,000; and 1967—$8,000.

To determine if he is eligible for averaging, first total his taxable income for the four previous years. That's $48,000.

and spend the necessary time to complete the form. Your time will be well rewarded. In our example above the savings were $890.

You'll need copies of the previous four years' returns to supply all the figures necessary to complete Schedule G. If you have not retained copies, write early to the Service Center where your returns were filed. IRS charges $1 a page to make copies.

A Colonial Chicken Treat

By AILEEN CLAIRE
NEA Food Editor

Chicken has had a special place on the American table from pre-Revolutionary days. It was a chief ingredient, too, for many favored dishes of George Washington. At lovely Mount Vernon in Virginia, chickens had their own house among the row of adjacent buildings called "dependencies." In those historic days tender, young broiler-fryers were available only in the spring when the flocks were culled.

At this time Martha Washington and her cooking staff turned out tender chicken treats such as Chicken with Winter Sauce and superb chicken pies. The appreciation of chicken dishes hasn't waned since Colonial days.

WASHINGTON'S CHICKEN WITH WINTER SAUCE

Sprinkle body cavity of whole 3½-pound broiler-fryer chicken with 1 teaspoon salt. Hook wing tips onto back to hold neck skin. Tie legs together and then to tail. If using rotisserie slide chicken onto rotisserie spit with legs downward. Brush chicken with melted butter or margarine. Roast 1 hour or according to manufacturer's instructions or roast in 375-degree oven 1 hour and 45 minutes in shallow pan. Chicken should be brown and drumstick should feel soft when pressed with fingers and twist easily out of thigh joint. Remove chicken from spit or oven to heated platter. Serve with Winter Sauce. Makes 4 servings.

WINTER SAUCE

1 can (1 pound) whole cranberry sauce
½ cup raisins
¼ teaspoon salt

½ teaspoon dry mustard
2 tablespoons water
¼ cup chopped hazelnuts or walnuts

Heat cranberry sauce in small saucepan until melted. Stir in raisins, salt, dry mustard, water and hazelnuts. (NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.)

Yummy Yams Change the Pace

By AILEEN CLAIRE
NEA Food Editor

Cured yams are excellent bakers and make a change-of-pace taste with your favorite meats in winter. Yams may be topped with an interesting sauce, similar to sour cream or other favorite toppings normally thought of when serving baked potatoes. Surprise the family with the interesting combination of the sweet moistness of yams, whipped and spooned back into shell, topped with a combination of mushrooms, onion, parsley, bacon.

BAKED LOUISIANA YAMS WITH SAVORY TOPPING

6 medium Louisiana yams
1 cup chopped mushrooms, about ¼-pound
½ cup chopped onion
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
¼ cup chopped parsley
6 slices crisp-cooked bacon, crumbled
Salt
Pepper
¼ cup butter or margarine, melted
Hot milk (about ¼-cup)

Bake yams in 400-degree oven 15 minutes. Lower temperature to 375 degrees and bake 45 minutes or until tender. Meanwhile, saute mushrooms and onion in 2 tablespoons butter until onion is tender; stir in parsley, bacon, ¼-teaspoon salt and dash pepper. Score baked yams lengthwise and crosswise and scoop out yam centers, leaving ¼-inch shells. Mash yams; add 1¼ teaspoons salt, dash pepper, melted butter and hot milk. Whip well, adding a little more hot milk, if desired. Spoon whipped yams into shells and top each with some of mushroom-bacon mixture. Place on a baking sheet and bake at 375-degree oven 15 minutes; Makes 6 servings.

BRAZILIAN CHOCOLATE MOUSSE

Enough to serve a crowd.
¾ cup sugar
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
6 eggs, separated
2 ½ cups milk
2 squares (2 ounces) unsweetened chocolate, grated
1 cup ground cocktail peanuts
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
In a saucepan thoroughly stir together sugar and gelatin. In a bowl beat egg yolks slightly; add milk and beat to combine; stir into gelatin mixture. Add chocolate. Cook over medium-high heat, stirring constantly, just until mixture comes to a boil. Remove from heat; cool thoroughly at room temperature. Stir in ground peanuts and vanilla. Beat egg whites until stiff; fold into chocolate mixture. Pour into serving dishes. Chill until firm. Garnish with sweetened whipped cream and chopped peanuts. Makes 12 to 14 servings.

Stew Is Tops for All Ages

By AILEEN CLAIRE
NEA Food Editor

Once upon a time stew was considered a peasant dish. Today a good stew served with crisp bread and a crunchy salad with tangy dressing is an everyman's dish. A Sailors' Steak Stew, for example, is a hearty meal for all ages.

SAILORS' STEAK STEW

¼ cup butter or margarine
3 large onions, sliced
3 lbs. roundsteak, cut into 1 inch cubes
3 tablespoons Angostura aromatic bitters
6 peppercorns
6 medium potatoes, peeled and sliced ½-inch thick
2 cups light beer
Salt and pepper

Heat butter and saute onions until transparent. Brush meat cubes thoroughly with bitters. Add meat to onions and stir over high heat until cubes are brown. Add peppercorns and potatoes. Add beer. Cover and simmer, gently stirring occasionally for 1½ hours or until meat is tender. No thickening is required in this stew as during cooking the potatoes will disintegrate into stew, making it thicker with-

A Different Kind of Cake Delight

By AILEEN CLAIRE
NEA Food Editor

Cake bakers are an artful group and enjoy trying new recipes. Turning out a confection that is handsome to look at and that has a delicious flavor and interesting texture is of prime importance to these specialists. A different cake that is an eye-catcher for either Washington's Birthday or Valentine's Day is a Cherry Cake Delight. It combines chopped nutmeats and enriched cornmeal with cherry pie filling and is topped with a ring of cherries and a frosting of whipped cream.

CHERRY CAKE DELIGHT

- Cake
- 1 cup milk
 - 1/2 cup enriched cornmeal
 - 6 eggs
 - 2 cups granulated sugar
 - 1 teaspoon vanilla
 - 1/2 cup finely chopped nutmeats
 - 1 1/2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
 - 2 teaspoons baking powder
 - 1/2 teaspoon salt

Cherry Filling

- 1 (1 lb. 5-oz.) can cherry pie filling
- 2 tablespoons Kirsch or cranberry juice

Whipped Cream Frosting

- 1 cup well-chilled whipping cream
- 1/4 cup confectioners' sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon vanilla

Preheat oven at 350 degrees. Scald milk; gradually add cornmeal, stirring constantly; set aside. Beat eggs until thick and lemon-colored. Gradually add sugar, beating constantly until light and fluffy. Add vanilla. Stir in nutmeats. Sift together flour, baking powder and salt; stir into creamed mixture. Gradually stir in milk-cornmeal mixture.

Pour batter into ungreased 10-inch tube pan. Bake in 350-degree oven 60 to 65 minutes or until golden brown. Invert to cool. Remove from pan.

For cherry filling, combine cherry pie filling and Kirsch. For whipped cream frosting, combine whipping cream, sugar and vanilla in well-chilled bowl of mixer; beat until very stiff or frosting like.

To assemble, split cake into 2 equal layers. Spread 1/2 of cherry filling on bottom layer; top with second layer of cake. Frost sides, center opening and 1/4-inch band around the outer and inner edges of the top with whipped cream frosting. Spoon remaining cherry filling over unfrosted area of top. Chill until serving time. Makes 16 servings.

SHOWBEAT

Coming Attraction: Real Trials on TV

By DICK KLEINER

HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — The man who is probably America's most famous trial lawyer believes that courtroom proceedings should be televised.

F. Lee Bailey says they should—and will. He is convinced that it's only a matter of time until trials are regularly available on home screens. He says some Minneapolis cases are already being televised.

"Televising trials," Bailey says, "is now feasible because the equipment has become unobtrusive. It doesn't disrupt the court anymore. You have cameras around. And I think it would be a good thing for justice and for informing the public."

It would make existing lawyer shows on TV seem pretty pallid, of course. And Bailey is pretty strong—but not as strong as you might think—in his opinion of the legal shows now offered by the networks.

"They range," he says, "from bare mediocrity to pretty good. But I don't watch TV very much."

That becomes pretty obvious when he mentions the shows he thinks are pretty good—he cites "Most of The Defendants" and some of Judd for the Defense," and both those shows have been off the air for some years.

Bailey has a new book, "The Defense Never Rests," which deals with some of the important cases he has handled. And he says there is some interest among Hollywood movie producers in taking parts of the book—notably, those sections dealing with the Shepherd and Copolino cases—for a feature film.

He thinks that acting training would be advantageous for lawyers (although he had none) but says there is one big difference between acting and appearing in a courtroom.

"There are no retakes in court," he says. "Lawyers must give everything they've got the first time."

My Blue Havens

Richie Havens was in town for a concert. He was in and out of Hollywood like a wisp, because that's his style. He comes to a city, does his thing, and is off again. He says that he does three or four concerts a week, 40 weeks a year. And he spreads joy wherever he goes.

But he makes use of his time. Unlike most touring artists, he doesn't spend what free time he has watching other performers work. Havens brings along a virtual library of his own, and the dresser in his hotel room was loaded with books about psychology, sociology, religion, astrology.

Havens springs from the notorious Bedford-Stuyvesant section of Brooklyn. When he was growing up there, he says, it was the heyday of the gangs. But he says the gang scene is over.

"The gangs went out," he says, "when drugs came in. The kids didn't need violence to escape any more. They escaped with drugs."

He doesn't make a judgment about which method of escape is preferable. He was fortunate—he needed neither, but escaped via his music.

"I believe," he says, "that singing is the ultimate form of communication, and that is my goal. Singing is the best way of getting across my message, that people must work together."

"That's why, to me, lyrics are more important than the melody."

Which makes him unique in pop music today. We need a few more entertainers like Richie Havens.

Riley Has No Commitment

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Lt. Gov. Bob Riley said Tuesday

that speculation about the possibility of him seeking the position of Rep. David Pryor, D-Ark., of the 4th Congressional District, had "encouraged much rumor and misinformation."

Riley said that his political intentions were to campaign for Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., for president and to seek his own re-election this year "while remaining flexible upon other conditions yet unknown and undetermined."

Twiggly Branches Out

By DICK KLEINER

HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — "The Boy Friend" is a split-level film, as far as Twiggly is concerned.

It is, on the surface, a part she wanted to play and a movie she wanted to make.

But, after you've been talking to her for awhile, you realize there is more to it than that. "The Boy Friend" spells vindication to her.

Twiggly and her long-time associate and friend (and, perhaps, husband), Justin de Villeneuve, wanted to show the public that Twiggly is a person.

"We were fed up with the public's impression of us," says Twiggly, or Twigs, as Justin calls her.

"They think I'm a Sven-gali," Justin says, "and that Twigs is a mindless creature I made and controlled. There's more to Twigs than that."

There is, indeed. She's a bright, cheerful, articulate girl with a twinkle in her eye and more flesh on her bones than rumors would have it. And she wants to be somebody.

A couple of years ago, she saw "The Boy Friend" as a stage revival in London. "It knocked me out," she says.

From the moment the curtain fell, she wanted to play that part in the film version. Justin went along and, together, they set about to realize her dream. They got hold of director Ken Russell—they'd known him long before he hit it big with "Women in Love"—and put the package together. They own a healthy percentage of the finished film.

"When this picture is out for awhile," Twiggly says, "maybe they'll stop asking me what I have for breakfast, what my measurements are and all that sort of thing. And maybe they'll stop making jokes about me, many of which are rude and insulting."

In England, Justin says, all the jokes and embarrassing questions have made them burrow into their shell. They give no interviews at a year off her clothes. Justin says, "And another $70,000 off the make-up. It could have gone on for another few years."

And they live high—"we live extravagantly, beyond our means," Twiggly says. Justin estimates that it costs them $1,000 a week to live.

"We have a very good cook," he says, "and we have the Rolls and we have our clothes and all that."

Twiggly

movie star. They are well into planning their next film. It will be a '30s musical.

"I love that period," she says. "And I love old pictures and old clothes. I love old movies like 'Waterloo Bridge' and 'Camille' and the old stars like Joan Crawford and Marilyn Monroe."

After that film, they want to do a romantic picture, because Twiggly is a sentimentalist.
